POLITICAL BRIEFS

LIBERAL

A 600acre, low down payment residential development plan to provide living accommodation for as many as 32,750 persons in various income brackets has been proposed for Blair Road area by Burnaby-Seymour Liberal candidate Roy Perrault.

A special report presented by Mr. Perrault shows that the federally-owned site could become a new, "total community" comprised of 3,757 units in inter-connected, neighborhoods of various types of dwellings.

excellent shelter

Mr. Perrault said that his concept would provide "excellent shelter" for persons whose income will support monthly payments of $75 to $90 per month as well as accommodation for those able to meet payments to $160 a month. Down payments would be as low as $500, he said.

The new report follows Mr. Perrault's outline last Friday to a campaign rally of "a practical solution to meet the chronic shortage of rental housing -- particularly for families with children."

The report envision the development of 480 acres for dwellings and 120 acres for roads.

CONSERVATIVE

The gigantic con-game of a Federal election is on again. The double-takers are loose in the land and the long suffering public has another burden to add to the exorbitant taxes, diminishing real incomes and arrogant bureaucracy which oppress this day in and day out. I am running as a Conservative in Burnaby South because I am fed up with lies and evasions.

Douglas lying

I am fed up with Douglas lying when he says the Liberal Party is not led by a Socialist when the record speaks for itself.

I am fed up with Douglas lying when he says Perrault is against the Carter Report when Perrault has repeatedly stated he is.

I am fed up with Douglas lying when he says Carter Report would help the average taxpayer when they know that it would increase the taxes of the wage earners by:

a) lumping the income of husbands, working wives and working children into the Family Tax Bracket
b) taxing the hard won fringes benefits of the wage earners as "supposed" Income.

NDP

It's being said by some people that the Liberal Party under its new leader is the harbinger of "creeping" socialism. All I can say that people saying this haven't been reading what the Liberal leader has been saying lately.

I can point to many examples which prove he's quite the opposite of a socialist. I want to mention one point in particular where he and his party are anything but socialist. It's this question of taxes. Despite what the Liberals say, the question of taxes is going to be a key issue in this election because it's one of the issues which affects millions of ordinary, quiet, worried Canadians.

unfair tax system

The Liberal Government is the defender of one of the most unfair tax systems in the western world. It is the defender of taxes which grant special privileges to the well-to-do, and make the average wage earner pay too much.

The Liberals are doing something about it, though. They're expanding their policy of special privileges. They're making the system even more unfair. They're turning discrimination into an exact science.

Loudoun Store

It was simultaneously announced by Mr. C. A. Cadieux, General Manager of the Woonco Department Stores of Canada, that a Woonco Department Store, comprising 150,000 square feet will be located in the Lougheed Mall. This store, the second Woonco Department Store in the Greater Vancouver area, will devote approximately 9,000 square feet to retail space on two levels. Mr. Cadieux emphasized that this store will follow the usual Woonco pattern of self-selection merchandising, providing customers with wide choices for added convenience, the opportunity to decide for themselves what they want to purchase. The announcement of this new location, Mr. Cadieux stated that further locations being studied in the Vancouver market area and that the new Lougheed Mall will complement the Woonco store already existing at Capilano Mall, North Vancouver.

ANOTHER NEW LOOK

This Time For The Sake Of SAFETY, SECURITY AND EFFICIENCY

A short time ago, by the cooperation of the landlord and the staff, our office had a complete-overhaul painting, and members' comments were that the result made the place a brighter and pleasanter place for Credit Union business.

Now added efficiency and security have entered the picture. Alterations have been carried out to meet the need for increased office space brought about by increased growth.

'Working space for the busy staff has been enlarged, by rearrangement of the office equipment, and with some new facilities added, efficiency and faster processing of Credit Union business has been achieved. There is also added privacy for members at the counter.

But what is most important are added security measures installed to guard against the hazards of possible forced entry, and to combat the rising tide of unwelcome night in, looking for quick pickup money. We have had one such intrusion, and we don't want any more.

You may be safe, but we are not secure. In every sense, at the Credit Union. Call in and see our "New Look" for yourselves.
